

Reading Well for young people: Overview of the 35 titles

General

1. Blame My Brain by Nicola Morgan, published by Walker Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781406346930

Format: Paperback

Publication date: May 2013

Extent: 192 pages

During the teenage years the brain undergoes its most radical and fundamental change since the age of two. Nicola Morgan's carefully researched, accessible and humorous examination of the ups and downs of the teenage brain has chapters dealing with powerful emotions; the need for more sleep; the urge to take risks; the difference between genders; the reasons behind addiction or depression; and what lies ahead.

Nicola Morgan has written a number of critically acclaimed books for teens, including the Scottish Arts Council Award-winning Fleshmarket, Mondays Are Red, Chicken Friend, The Leaving Home Survival Guide and Sleepwalking (winner of the 2005 Scottish Arts Council Children's Book of the Year Award). She has also written numerous home learning titles.

2. The Self-Esteem Team's Guide to Sex, Drugs and WTFs?!! By Grace Barrett, Natasha Devon and Nadia Mendoza, published by John Blake Publishing [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781784186425

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2015

Extent: 288 pages

Other format: Ebook (ISBN: 9781784187798)

Sometimes being a teenager can seem like a relentless merry-go-round of people telling you how to dress and behave, who to be friends with, what grades you must get in order to avoid a destiny of failure and, most importantly, why you're spectacularly effing it all up. The Self-Esteem Team know this - because they were teenagers once. From 'How do I know if I'm healthy?' to 'what's it like to take drugs?' They won't tell you that if you have sex you'll definitely get an STI and die, but they will help you decide if you're ready. They won't tell you never to watch porn, but they will help you decipher what you see. They won't ask you not to embrace fashion, fitness or beauty, but they will give you the info you need to rock your own brand of gorgeous.

Natasha Devon, Grace Barrett and Nadia Mendoza - now a successful journalist, singer and showbiz editor respectively - have worked with more than 45,000 young people helping them tackle mental health, self-esteem and body-image issues.

3. I'll Give You the Sun by Jandy Nelson, published by Walker Books [Fiction]

ISBN: 9781406326499 Format: Paperback Publication date: April 2015 Extent: 368 pages

Other formats: CD audio (ISBN 9781501258039)

From the author of The Sky Is Everywhere, a radiant novel that will leave you laughing and crying - all at once. For fans of John Green, Gayle Forman and Lauren Oliver. Jude and her twin Noah were incredibly close - until a tragedy drove them apart, and now they are barely speaking. Then Jude meets a cocky, broken, beautiful boy as well as a captivating new mentor, both of whom may just need her as much as she needs them. What the twins don't realise is that each of them has only half the story and if they can just find their way back to one another, they have a chance to remake their world.

I'll Give You the Sun was shortlisted for the Waterstones Children's Book Prize: Older Fiction in 2016. It has been optioned by Warner Bros, with Denise Di Novi and Alison Greenspan behind the deal. The Sky Is Everywhere, Jandy's debut novel, was selected as a YALSA Best Fiction for Young Adults title and a Junior Library Guild Selection as well as being longlisted for the Carnegie Medal.

4. Mind Your Head by Juno Dawson, published by Hot Key Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781471405310 Format: Paperback Publication date: August 2015 Extent: 208 pages

We all have a mind, so we all need to take care of our mental health as much as we need to take care of our physical health. The first step is being able to talk about our mental health. Juno Dawson leads the way with this frank, factual and funny book, with added information and support from clinical psychologist Dr Olivia Hewitt. Covering topics from anxiety and depression, to addiction, self-harm and personality disorders. Juno and Olivia talk clearly and supportively about a range of issues facing young people's mental health – whether fleeting or long-term - and how to manage them. With real-life stories from young people around the world and witty illustrations from Gemma Correll.

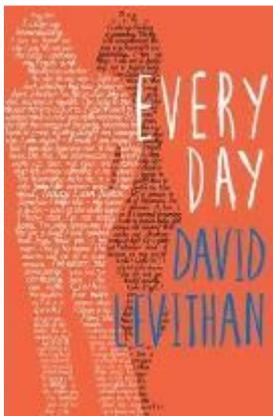

Queen of Teen 2014 Juno Dawson is the multi award-winning author of dark teen thrillers Say Her Name and Under My Skin. In 2015, Juno announced her transition to become a woman, having previously lived as James Dawson. Her first non-fiction book, Being A Boy, tackled puberty, sex and relationships in a frank and funny fashion, and a follow-up for young LGBT people, This Book is Gay, came out in 2014. Juno is a regular contributor to news items concerning sexuality, identity, literature and education on BBC Women's Hour and Newsnight amongst others. Dr Olivia Hewitt is a clinical psychologist who met Juno Dawson at university, has worked for the NHS since 2003 and specialises in working with people with a learning disability as well as writing for academic journals and lecturing.

ISBN: 9781405264426 Format: Paperback Publication date: August 2013 Extent: 384 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781780311975)

From the genius of David Levithan, co-author of Will Grayson, Will Grayson and Nick and Nora's Infinite Playlist, comes a love story like no other you've read before. Each morning, a wakes up in a different body. There's never any warning about who it will be, but a is used to that. Never get too attached. Avoid being noticed. Do not interfere. And that's fine - until a wakes up in the body of Justin and meets Justin's girlfriend, Rhiannon. From that moment, the rules by which a has been living no longer apply. Finally a has found someone he wants to be with - every day. This is a stunningly original novel that will make you view the world from a different perspective. You can also read Rhiannon's side of the story in Another Day. Levithan's powerful novel explores the complexities of first love in a unique way.

David Levithan won the Lambda Literary Award for his debut novel Boy Meets Boy, but is probably best known for his collaborations with John Green (Will Grayson, Will Grayson) and Rachel Cohn (Nick and Nora's Infinite Playlist). As well as being a New York Times best-selling author, David is also a highly respected children's book editor, whose list includes many luminaries of children's literature. He is the winner of the UK Literary Association Book Award: Ages 12-16 in 2015 and was shortlisted for Indies Choice Book Awards: Young Adult Book of the Year 2013.

6. Kite Spirit by Sita Brahmachari, published by Macmillan Children's Books [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780330517928 Format: Paperback Publication date: May 2013 Extent: 320 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781447217787)

During the summer of her GCSEs, Kite's world falls apart. Her best friend, Dawn, commits suicide after a long struggle with feeling under pressure to achieve. Kite's dad takes her to the Lake District, to give her time and space to grieve. In London Kite is a confident girl, at home in the noisy, bustling city; but in the countryside she feels vulnerable and disorientated. Kite senses Dawn's spirit around her and is consumed by powerful, confusing emotions - anger, guilt, sadness and frustration, all of which are locked inside. It's not until she meets local boy, Garth, that Kite begins to open up - talking to a stranger is easier somehow. Kite deeply misses her friend and would do anything to speak to Dawn just once more, to understand why; Otherwise how can she ever say goodbye? A potent story about grief, friendship, acceptance and making your heart whole again.

Sita's debut novel, Artichoke Hearts, won the 2011 Waterstone's Children's Book Prize and has been longlisted for the Carnegie Medal. She was born in Derby in 1966 and has a BA in English Literature and an MA in Arts Education. Her many projects and writing commissions have been produced in theatres, universities, school and community groups throughout Britain and America.

7. Stuff That Sucks: Accepting what You Can't Change and Committing to what You Can by Ben Sedley, published by Robinson [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781472120533 Format: Paperback Publication date: October 2015 Extent: 96 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781472135681)

Each of us has thoughts that are painful at times; sometimes the pain is sadness, sometimes worry, anger, shame, grief or some feeling that you don't even have words for. If you are a young person struggling with your emotions, you do not want to be told that 'everyone feels like that' or that 'you will grow out of it'. You want to feel that your emotions are valid and that the person offering help truly understands how painful life can feel at times. With a strong emphasis on validation and compassion, Stuff That Sucks encourages you to accept your emotions rather than struggling against them. It also shows how to reconnect with what is really important to you, giving you the tools to help clarify your personal values and take steps towards living a life where those values can guide you in your day-to-day behaviour.

Ben Sedley is a clinical psychologist and ACT (Acceptance and Commitment therapy) therapist with experience of working with children, adolescents and families facing mental health difficulties in both primary health centres and community mental health teams. Ben's training and practice has focused on examining children and young people's understandings of mental health, which has helped guide him on the best ways to explain mental health concepts and ACT to young people.

8. House of Windows by Alexia Casale, published by Faber & Faber [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780571321537 Format: Paperback Publication date: August 2015 Extent: 384 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9780571321544)

"The body is a house of many windows: there we all sit, showing ourselves and crying on the passers-by to come and love us." (Robert Louis Stevenson). Nick hates it when people call him a genius. Sure, he's going to Cambridge University aged 15, but he says that's just because he works hard. And, secretly, he only works hard to get some kind of attention from his workaholic father. Not that his strategy is working. When he arrives at Cambridge, he finds the work hard and socialising even harder. Until, that is, he starts to cox for the college rowing crew and all hell breaks loose. A wry, heartfelt and beautiful second novel from award-winning author of The Bone Dragon about how the people we love the most can be the most difficult people to love.

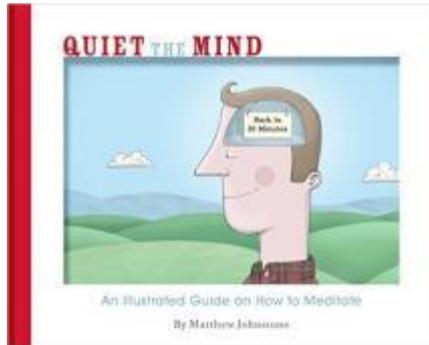

A British-American citizen of Italian heritage, Alexia is an editor, teacher and writing consultant. After studying at Cambridge, she moved to New York to work on a Tony-award-winning Broadway show before completing a PhD and teaching qualification.

9. Quiet the Mind by Matthew Johnstone, published by Robinson [Graphic Novel]

ISBN: 9781780331188 Format: Paperback Publication date: April 2012 Extent: 72 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781780339023)

In a world where finding even ten minutes to 'do nothing', the benefits of meditation can be profound. Meditation is simply a way of giving our brains a well-deserved break and can actually help our brains to function healthy and happily. This beautifully illustrated guide is an inspiring and practical book which shows you how to meditate without the need for uncomfortable lotus positions or prayer beads! With his typical gentle and insightful humour, Matthew's guide to meditation will enable you to feel more present, more youthful, have more energy and greater concentration, improve your mood and sleep more soundly.

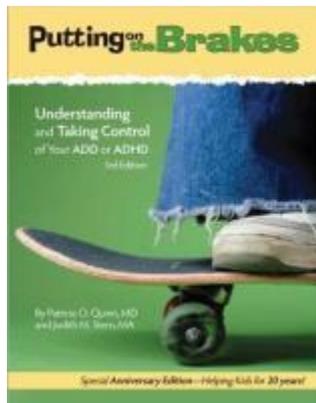

Matthew Johnstone is the author of bestselling books Alphabet of the Human Heart, I Had a Black Dog and Living with a Black Dog, also published by Robinson. He is also an artist, writer and exhibited photographer.

Format: Paperback

Publication date: October 2015

Extent: 208 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781626252455)

If you have anxiety, your fears and worries can keep you from feeling confident and independent. Teen milestones such as making friends, dating, getting good grades, or taking on more mature responsibilities, may seem much more difficult. And if you're like countless other anxious teens, you may even avoid situations that cause you anxiety altogether - leaving you stuck in a cycle of worry and avoidance. So, how can you take control of your anxiety before it takes control of you? Based in Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) and Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT), this book helps you identify your 'monkey mind' - the primitive part of the brain where anxious thoughts arise. You'll also be able to determine if you suffer from generalised anxiety, phobias, social anxiety, panic and agoraphobia, Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (OCD), or separation anxiety. Full of powerful, yet simple, cartoon illustrations, this book will teach you practical strategies for handling even the toughest situations that previously caused you to feel anxious or worried. If you're ready to feel more independent, more confident, and be your best, this unique book will show you how.

Jennifer Shannon, LMFT, is the author of The Shyness and Social Anxiety Workbook for Teens and clinical director and co-founder of the Santa Rosa Centre for Cognitive-Behavioural Therapy, in Santa Rosa, CA. She is a Diplomate of the Academy of Cognitive Therapy.

13. The Shyness and Social Anxiety Workbook for Teens by Jennifer Shannon, published by New Harbinger [Non-fiction]

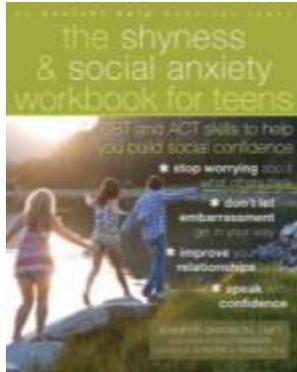

ISBN: 9781608821877

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2012

Extent: 144 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781608821891)

During the adolescent years, teens learn to grow more independent of their parents and families and focus instead on social development. But millions of teens with social anxiety and shyness would much rather bypass this critical stage. Shy teens may want to break out of their shell but feel uncertain how to do so, or may be anxious about being judged by their peers. The Shyness and Social Anxiety Workbook for Teens offers a complete programme based in Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) and Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) for helping teens break free from social anxiety and stop worrying about what others think. This book helps teens come to see that painful emotions, such as embarrassment, are inevitable and survivable. The comic-strip-style illustrations, exercises, and worksheets in this book address all aspects of social anxiety, from missing out on high school dances to going to job interviews. It also includes help for teens that have anxiety about blushing in public and speaking up in class.

Jennifer Shannon, LMFT, is a clinical director and co-founder of the Santa Rosa Centre for Cognitive-Behavioural Therapy in Santa Rosa, CA. She is a diplomat of the Academy of Cognitive Therapy. Illustrator Doug Shannon is a freelance cartoonist and illustrator. Foreword writer Christine A. Padesky, PhD, is a clinical psychologist and direct of the Centre for Cognitive Therapy in Huntington Beach, CA. She is the co-author of Mind over Mood and other books.

14. The Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky, published by Simon & Schuster [Fiction]

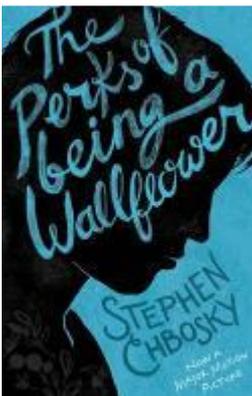

ISBN: 9781471116148

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2012

Extent: 240 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781471118180)

Shy, introspective, intelligent beyond his years, caught between trying to live his life and trying to run from it, Charlie is attempting to navigate through the uncharted territory of high school. The world of first dates and mixed tapes, family dramas and new friends. The world of sex, drugs, and music - when all one requires to feel infinite is that perfect song on that perfect drive. Standing on the fringes of life Charlie has a unique perspective of the world around him, but there comes a time to stop being a wallflower and see what it looks like from the dance floor. This haunting novel about the dilemma of passivity vs. passion has become a modern classic. Charlie's letters are singular and unique, hilarious and devastating and through Charlie, Stephen Chbosky has created a deeply affecting story that will spirit you back to those wild and poignant roller coaster days known as growing up.

Stephen Chbosky's first film The Four Corners of Nowhere, premiered at Sundance Film Festival and went on to win Best Narrative Feature honours at the Chicago Underground Film Festival. Most recently, he wrote the screenplay for the critically acclaimed film adaptation of Rent. The Perks of Being a Wallflower is his first novel. As well as being an author, Stephen Chbosky is a film director and screenwriter.

Autism and Asperger Syndrome

15. Freaks, Geeks and Asperger Syndrome by Luke Jackson, published by Jessica Kingsley [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781843100980

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2002

Extent: 216 pages

Have you ever been called a freak or a geek? Have you ever felt like one? Luke Jackson is 13 years old and has Asperger Syndrome. Over the years Luke has learned to laugh at such names but there are other aspects of life which are more difficult. Adolescence and the teenage years are a minefield of emotions, transitions and decisions and when a child has Asperger Syndrome, the result is often explosive. Luke has three sisters and one brother in various stages of their adolescent and teenage years but he is acutely aware of just how different he is and how little information is available for adolescents like himself. Drawing from his own experiences and gaining information from his teenage brother and sisters, he wrote this enlightening, honest and witty book in an attempt to address difficult topics such as bullying, friendships, when and how to tell others about AS, school problems, dating, relationships and morality. Luke writes briefly about his younger autistic and AD/HD brothers, providing amusing insights into the antics of his younger years and advice for parents, carers and teachers of younger AS children. However, his main reason for writing was because so many books are written about us, but none are written directly to adolescents with Asperger Syndrome.

Luke Jackson is 13 years old and has three sisters and three brothers. One of his brothers has AD/HD, one is autistic and Luke has Asperger Syndrome. He is the author of A User Guide to the GF/CF Diet for Autism and Asperger Syndrome and AD/HD, also published by Jessica Kingsley Publishers.

16. The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time by Mark Haddon, published by Vintage [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780099598459

Format: Paperback

Publication date: August 2012

Extent: 288 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781409086048); CD audio (ISBN 9781856867887)

Christopher is fifteen. He knows a very great deal about maths and very little about human beings. He loves lists, patterns and the truth. He hates the colours yellow and brown and being touched. He has never gone further than the end of the road on his own, but when he finds a neighbour's dog murdered, he sets out on a terrifying journey which will turn his whole world upside down. With over ten million copies sold and turned into a West End stage play, The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time is a murder mystery novel like no other. The detective, and narrator, is Christopher Boone.

Mark Haddon is an author, illustrator and screenwriter who has written fifteen books for children and won two BAFTAs. His bestselling novel, The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time, was published in 2003. It won seventeen literary prizes, including the Whitbread Award. His poetry collection, The Talking Horse and the Sad Girl and the Village Under the Sea, was published in 2005, followed by his novel, The Red House, in 2012.

17. The Reason I Jump by Naoki Higashida, translated by David Mitchell and YA Yoshida, published by Sceptre [Memoir]

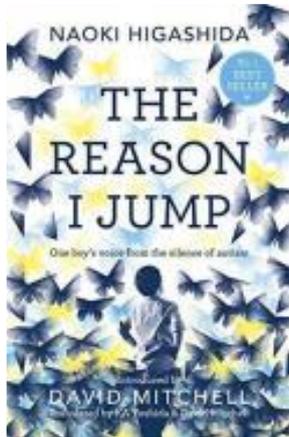

ISBN: 9781444776775

Format: Paperback

Publication date: April 2014

Extent: 192 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781444776768); Audio file (ISBN 9781444779882)

The No. 1 Sunday Times and New York Times bestseller. Written by Naoki Higashida when he was only thirteen, this remarkable book provides a rare insight into the often baffling behaviour of autistic children. Using a question and answer format, Naoki explains things like why he talks loudly or repeats the same questions, what causes him to have panic attacks, and why he likes to jump. He also shows the way he thinks and feels about his world - other people, nature, time and beauty, and himself. Abundantly proving that people with autism do possess imagination, humour and empathy, he also makes clear how badly they need our compassion, patience and understanding. David Mitchell and his wife have translated Naoki's book so that it might help others dealing with autism and generally illuminate a little-understood condition.

Naoki Higashida was diagnosed with autism in 1998 and subsequently attended a school for students with special needs, then (by correspondence) Atmark Cosmopolitan High School, graduating in 2011. Having learnt to use a method of communication based on an alphabet grid, Naoki wrote The Reason I Jump when he was thirteen and it was published in Japan in 2007. He has published several books since, from autobiographical accounts about living with autism to fairy tales, poems and illustrated books, and writes a regular blog. Despite his communication challenges, he also gives presentations about life on the autistic spectrum throughout Japan and works to raise awareness about autism. David Mitchell is the author of the novels Ghostwritten, number9dream, Cloud Atlas and Black Swan Green. He has been shortlisted twice for the Man Booker Prize and won several awards for his writing.

Body Image and Eating Disorders

18. Can I Tell You About Eating Disorders? By Bryan Lask and Lucy Watson, published by Jessica Kingsley [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781849054218

Format: Paperback

Publication date: June 2014

Extent: 56 pages

Meet Alice - a teenage girl with anorexia nervosa. Alice invites readers to learn about anorexia nervosa and how it makes her see herself differently from how other people see her. She also introduces readers to Beth who has bulimia nervosa, Sam who has selective eating problems, Francesca who has functional dysphagia and Freddie who has food avoidance emotional disorder. They all explain why they find food difficult and how their eating disorders are different. This illustrated book is an ideal introduction to understanding the complex issues surrounding eating disorders. It shows family, friends and teachers how they can support a young person with an eating disorder and will also be a good place to start when encouraging open conversations about eating disorders at school or at home. The Can I tell you about? series offers simple introductions to a range of limiting conditions and other issues that affect our lives. Friendly characters invite readers to learn about their experiences, the challenges they face, and how they would like to be helped and supported. These books serve as excellent starting points for family and classroom discussions.

Format: Paperback

Publication date: February 2011

Extent: 128 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781406335378)

In this stark portrayal of a young woman's struggle with anorexia, Lesley Fairfield draws on her own experiences of an eating disorder to give a powerful and candid story of hope and survival. 'Do I know you?' 'You've always known me, silly...I'm Tyranny, your other self. I keep you thin.' One day, horrified by her reflection in the mirror, Anna makes a life-changing decision - that food is the enemy. Her obsession with being thin and beautiful will now dominate her every waking and sleeping hour. Should she falter or show any signs of weakness, Tyranny, her inner voice of 'reason' will be only too willing to push her back into line. Years later, when Anna finally finds the strength to defeat her personal demon, it will be a matter of life and death.

Lesley Fairfield is a graduate of the Ontario College of Art and Design and has illustrated many children's books. Lesley's thirty-year battle with anorexia and bulimia has informed her work and given Tyranny, her first graphic novel, a sharp edge and deep insight.

Bullying

21. Bullies, Cyberbullies and Frenemies by Michele Elliott, published by Wayland [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9780750272148

Format: Paperback

Publication date: February 2013

Extent: 128 pages

Friendships and peer relationships are one of the most difficult things about being a teen. Many face bullying of some kind or another, whether in person or on the Internet or social media. Written by Kidscape founder Michele Elliott, Teen Life Confidential: Bullies, Cyberbullies and Frenemies is a friendly, kind and practical guide to navigating these tricky relationships, and beating the bullies. Are there practical things you can do to stop being bullied - at home, at school and online? What are frenemies and how can you deal with them? How can you learn to make friends and respect yourself? If you're a bully, how can you change your behaviour? This brilliant book will tell you what bullying is, where it happens and what you can do about it, as well as how to assert yourself and develop your self-esteem. Advice is supported by quotes from teenagers, who share their own experiences, and will help to make readers feel they're not alone.

Michele Elliott is the founder of the charity Kidscape and has been awarded an OBE for services to children. She is a child psychologist and teacher with 40 years' experience and has worked with charities including Childline and the NSPCC.

Format: Paperback

Publication date: Dec 2012

Extent: 176 pages

Other formats: Large print (ISBN 9781459694897)

Essays by teens address bullying: physical, verbal, relational, and cyber. These stories will appeal to readers because the cruelty and hurt are unmistakably real - and the reactions of the writers are sometimes cringe-worthy, often admirable, and always believable. Teens open up to tell personal stories that tackle difficult, real-life issues. Direct, revealing, and often raw, these voices will ring true for any teen reader who has faced bullying, anger, or stress. Each piece has been selected and edited to appeal to reluctant and emerging readers. Readers will be inspired by the writers' courage and strength in working hard to overcome problems both large and small.

25. Face by Benjamin Zephaniah, published by Bloomsbury [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780747541547

Format: Paperback

Publication date: May 1999

Extent: 208 pages

In this startling debut novel from Benjamin Zephaniah, the author tackles the moving and compelling story of a young man, Martin, whose life is completely changed when his face is badly scarred in a joyriding accident. Brilliantly written with a real ear for dialogue, this is Benjamin Zephaniah breaking new boundaries.

Benjamin Zephaniah is probably one of the most high-profile international authors writing today, with an enormous breadth of appeal, equally popular with both adults and children. Most well-known for his performance poetry with a political edge for adults and groundbreaking performance poetry for children, Benjamin also has his own rap and reggae band, and has appeared on Desert Island Discs. He is in constant demand internationally to perform his work: he is (he thinks) Nelson Mandela's favourite poet, and is the only Rastafarian poet to be short-listed for the Chairs of Poetry for both Oxford and Cambridge University.

Depression

26. Am I Depressed and What Can I Do About It? By Shirley Reynolds and Monika Parkinson, published by Robinson [Non-fiction]

Format: Paperback

Publication date: September 2015

Extent: 384 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781472114563)

Depression is one of the most common mental health problems and is estimated to affect around 15% of people at some point during their life. For many people depression is a life-long disorder which starts during the teenage years - around 10% of teenagers are estimated to have an episode of depression and many more experience persistent low mood. This accessible, engaging and age-appropriate self-help guide based on current research and best practice (NICE and IAPT treatment pathways both promote CBT) for young people who experience low mood and depression, and their friends, family and health professionals. The book adopts a narrative approach with graphic elements, incorporating case studies and including some interactive exercises. It provides an essential bridge for young people who have not yet asked for professional help as well as support for those who are waiting for treatment.

Professor Shirley Reynolds is the Director of the Charlie Waller Institute at the University of Reading, where she conducts research into depression in young people. She is past President of the British Association of Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapy (BABCP) and has recently co-edited the 3rd edition of CBT for Children and Families. Dr Monika Parkinson works clinically with children, young people and families at the University of Reading and for the NHS. She has been involved in several large treatment research trials aimed at investigating enhanced outcomes for child mental health problems. These roles have involved direct clinical work with families, supervision of mental health practitioners and providing teaching and training to varied audiences.

Self-Harm

30. The Truth about Self-Harm by Celia Richardson, published by Mental Health Foundation

ISBN: 9781903645994

Format: Paperback

Publication date: November 2012

Extent: 36

This booklet aims to help you understand more about self-harm and what to do if you are worried about yourself or someone else. It explains what self-harm is, what to do if you or someone you know is self-harming, and how to get help. Self-harm is very common and affects more people than you think.

All of the information in the booklet is based on the findings of the National Inquiry into Self-harm among young people. The inquiry was carried out by two charities, The Mental Health Foundation and The Camelot Foundation. The inquiry panel heard evidence from many hundreds of people including young people who self-harm, or have self-harmed in the past, and those who work with or care about them. This booklet is based on what they said. The booklet was developed by Celia Richardson, Kristen Morgan and Claire Walsh.

OCD

31. Breaking Free from OCD by Jo Derisley, Isobel Heyman, Sarah Robinson and Cynthia Turner, published by Jessica Kingsley

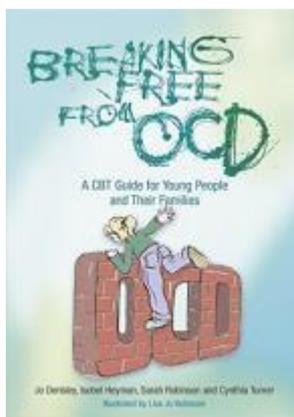

ISBN: 9781843105749

Format: Paperback

Publication date: May 2008

Extent: 224 pages

Obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD) is a potentially life-long debilitating disorder, which often emerges during teenage years and affects as many as 1 in every 50 people. Young people living with OCD experience recurrent obsessions or compulsions that are distressing and interfere with their social lives, relationships, educational functioning and careers. Written by leading experts on OCD, this step-by-step guide is written for adolescents with OCD and their families, to be used in home treatment or as a self-help book. Using the principles of cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) it offers teenagers a structured plan of treatment which can be read alone, or with a parent, counsellor or mental health worker. The guide provides useful advice and worksheets throughout. This self-help book for young people is an invaluable resource for adolescents who have suffered from, or know someone who has suffered from, OCD, their families, teachers, carers, and mental health professionals.

Jo Derisley, is Consultant Clinical Psychologist at the Norfolk & Waveney Mental Health Care Trust, UK. Isobel Heyman is Honorary Senior Lecturer at the King's College Institute of Psychiatry, London, and a Consultant Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist. Dr Heyman and Dr Derisley represented childhood OCD in the NICE Guideline Development Group, and contributed to the written national UK guidelines for the management of OCD. Sarah Robinson is Assistant Psychologist at the national and specialist OCD and related disorders clinic for children and young people at the Maudsley Hospital. Cynthia Turner is Honorary Lecturer at the King's College Institute of Psychiatry, London and Senior Clinical Psychologist at the national and specialist OCD clinic for children and young people. ISBN: 9781406362992

Publication date: March 2015

Extent: 272 pages

When Adam meets Robyn at a support group for kids coping with obsessive-compulsive disorder, he is drawn to her almost before he can take a breath. He's determined to protect and defend her, to play Batman to her Robin, whatever the cost. But when you're fourteen and the everyday problems of dealing with divorced parents and step-siblings are supplemented by the challenges of OCD, it's hard to imagine yourself falling in love.

Two time Governor General's award nominee Teresa Toten is the acclaimed Canadian author of six novels, one picture book, and one anthology. Her work often grapples with tough but illuminating material. Teresa's latest novel, The Unlikely Hero of Room 13B is a tender yet hilarious love story that has already been subject to great critical acclaim.

33. Touch and Go Joe by Joe Wells, published by Jessica Kingsley [Memoir]

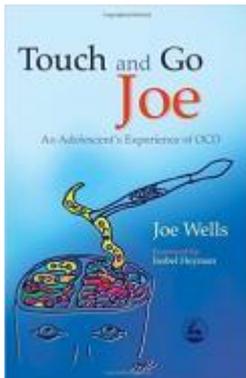

ISBN: 9781843103912

Format: Paperback

Publication date: March 2006

Extent: 128 pages

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9786610566464)

As many as 2 in every 100 people suffer from Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (OCD), and 16-year-old Joe Wells is one of them. In Touch and Go Joe, he tells the story of his battle with OCD from its insidious beginnings at age 9 and increasingly intrusive symptoms, to diagnosis at age 12. Having struggled to keep the condition a secret for years, he is now able to talk and write openly about OCD and how he battled to overcome it.

This book is packed with advice and coping strategies, as well as first-hand accounts of available treatments such as Cognitive Behavioural Therapy and medication. Written in an informal and accessible style, and including his own humorous illustrations, Touch and Go Joe gives an upbeat yet realistic look at the effect of OCD on adolescent life. This honest and amusing account will raise awareness of this all-too-common, yet frequently misdiagnosed disorder and will be of interest to anyone who has suffered from or knows someone who has suffered from OCD, including children and adolescents, teachers, psychologists, psychiatrists, mental health professionals, parents and carers.

Stress

34. Fighting Invisible Tigers by Earl Hipp, published by Free Spirit [Non-fiction]

35. The Teenage Guide to Stress by Nicola Morgan, published by Walker Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781406353143

Format: Paperback

Publication date: July 2014

Extent: 192 pages

The Teenage Guide to Stress - written for teenagers but essential for adults who want to understand - tackles all the external stresses that teenagers face, including feelings of anger, sadness (and depression), fear and failure; issues caused by changing bodies, body hatred, weight problems, eating disorders and self-harm; pressures of exams and schoolwork; sleep problems; changing relationships with friends and family; boyfriend/girlfriend issues and sexual pressures; bullying and cyber-bullying; problems arising from the internet; and looks at how pre-existing conditions such as OCD and dyslexia may be affected by adolescence. As well as a sympathetic, practical and positive look at all those stresses, The Teenage Guide to Stress clearly explains the biology behind stress and, crucially, a huge range of strategies and suggestions to deal with it and prevent negative symptoms. A list of useful resources completes this fantastically wide-ranging, reassuring, eye-opening and comprehensive guide for young people, empowering them to take control of their mental health.

Nicola Morgan has written nearly a hundred books. Her fiction titles Sleepwalking was winner of the 2005 Scottish Arts Council Children's Book of the Year Award. She is an established expert on the teenage brain and adolescent stress, known for her engaging, clear style. She is the author of the internationally renowned Blame My Brain: The Amazing Teenage Brain Revealed and has spoken in schools and at conferences around the world.
