

Reading Well for young people: Overview of the titles

General

1. Blame My Brain by Nicole Morgan, published by Walker Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781406346930      Format: Paperback

Contrary to popular (parental) opinion, teenagers are not the lazy, unpleasant (and frankly, spotty) louts they occasionally appear to be. During the teenage years the brain is undergoing it's most radical and fundamental change since the age of two. Nicola Morgan's carefully researched, accessible and humorous examination of the ups and downs of the teenage brain has chapters dealing with powerful emotions; the need for more sleep; the urge to take risks; the difference between genders; the reasons behind addiction or depression; and what lies ahead.

Nicola Morgan has written a number of critically acclaimed books for teens, including the Scottish Arts Council Award-winning Fleshmarket, Mondays Are Red, Chicken Friend, The Leaving Home Survival Guide and Sleepwalking (winner of the 2005 Scottish Arts Council Children's Book of the Year Award). She has also written numerous home learning titles.

2. I'll Give You the Sun by Jandy Nelson, published by Walker Books [Fiction]

ISBN: 9781406326499      Format: Paperback

Other formats: CD audio (ISBN 9781501258039)

From the author of The Sky Is Everywhere, a radiant novel that will leave you laughing and crying - all at once. For fans of John Green, Gayle Forman and Lauren Oliver. Jude and her twin Noah were incredibly close - until a tragedy drove them apart, and now they are barely speaking. Then Jude meets a cocky, broken, beautiful boy as well as a captivating new mentor, both of whom may just need her as much as she needs them. What the twins don't realise is that each of them has only half the story and if they can just find their way back to one another, they have a chance to remake their world.

I'll Give You the Sun was shortlisted for the Waterstones Children's Book Prize: Older Fiction in 2016. It has been optioned by Warner Bros, with Denise Di Novi and Alison Greenspan behind the deal. The Sky Is Everywhere, Jandy's debut novel, was selected as a YALSA Best Fiction for Young Adults title and a Junior Library Guild Selection as well as being longlisted for the Carnegie Medal.

3. Mind Your Head by Juno Dawson, published by Hot Keys Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781471405310      Format: Paperback

We all have a mind, so we all need to take care of our mental health as much as we need to take care of our physical health. The first step is being able to talk about our mental health. Juno Dawson leads the way with this frank, factual and funny book, with added information and support from clinical psychologist Dr Olivia Hewitt. Covering topics from anxiety and depression, to addiction, self-harm and personality disorders. Juno and Olivia talk clearly and supportively about a range of issues facing young people's mental health - whether fleeting or long-term - and how to manage them. With real-life stories from young people around the world and witty illustrations from Gemma Correll.

Queen of Teen 2014 Juno Dawson is the multi award-winning author of dark teen thrillers Say Her Name and Under My Skin. In 2015, Juno announced her transition to become a woman, having previously lived as James Dawson. Her first non-fiction book, Being A Boy, tackled puberty, sex and relationships in a frank and funny fashion, and a follow-up for young LGBT people, This Book is Gay, came out in 2014. Juno is a regular contributor to news items concerning sexuality, identity, literature and education on BBC Women's Hour and Newsnight amongst others. Dr Olivia Hewitt is a clinical psychologist who met Juno Dawson at university, has worked for the NHS since 2003 and specialises in working with people with a learning disability as well as writing for academic journals and lecturing.

4. Every Day by David Levithan, published by Electric Monkey [Fiction]

ISBN: 9781405264426      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781780311975)

From the genius of David Levithan, co-author of Will Grayson, Will Grayson and Nick and Nora's Infinite Playlist, comes a love story like no other you've read before. Each morning, a wakes up in a different body. There's never any warning about who it will be, but a is used to that. Never get too attached. Avoid being noticed. Do not interfere. And that's fine - until a wakes up in the body of Justin and meets Justin's girlfriend, Rhiannon. From that moment, the rules by which a has been living no longer apply. Finally a has found someone he wants to be with - every day. This is a stunningly original novel that will make you view the world from a different perspective. You can also read Rhiannon's side of the story in Another Day. Levithan's powerful novel explores the complexities of first love in a unique way.

David Levithan won the Lambda Literary Award for his debut novel Boy Meets Boy, but is probably best known for his collaborations with John Green (Will Grayson, Will Grayson) and Rachel Cohn (Nick and Norah's Infinite Playlist). As well as being a New York Times best-selling author, David is also a highly respected children's book editor, whose list includes many luminaries of children's literature. He is the winner of the UK Literary Association Book Award: Ages 12-16 in 2015 and was shortlisted for Indies Choice Book Awards: Young Adult Book of the Year 2013.

5. Kite Spirit by Sita Brahmachari, published by Macmillan Children's Books [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780330517928     Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781447217787)

During the summer of her GCSEs, Kite's world falls apart. Her best friend, Dawn, commits suicide after a long struggle with feeling under pressure to achieve. Kite's dad takes her to the Lake District, to give her time and space to grieve. In London Kite is a confident girl, at home in the noisy, bustling city; but in the countryside she feels vulnerable and disorientated. Kite senses Dawn's spirit around her and is consumed by powerful, confusing emotions - anger, guilt, sadness and frustration, all of which are locked inside. It's not until she meets local boy, Garth, that Kite begins to open up - talking to a stranger is easier somehow. Kite deeply misses her friend and would do anything to speak to Dawn just once more, to understand why; Otherwise how can she ever say goodbye? A potent story about grief, friendship, acceptance and making your heart whole again.

Sita's debut novel, Artichoke Hearts, won the 2011 Waterstone's Children's Book Prize and has been longlisted for the Carnegie Medal. She was born in Derby in 1966 and has a BA in English Literature and an MA in Arts Education. Her many projects and writing commissions have been produced in theatres, universities, school and community groups throughout Britain and America.

6. Stuff That Sucks: Accepting what You Can't Change and Committing to what You Can by Ben Sedley, published by Robinson [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781472120533     Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781472135681)

Each of us has thoughts that are painful at times; sometimes the pain is sadness, sometimes worry, anger, shame, grief or some feeling that you don't even have words for. If you are a young person struggling with your emotions, you do not want to be told that 'everyone feels like that' or that 'you will grow out of it'. You want to feel that your emotions are valid and that the person offering help truly understands how painful life can feel at times. With a strong emphasis on validation and compassion, Stuff That Sucks encourages you to accept your emotions rather than struggling against them. It also shows how to reconnect with what is really important to you, giving you the tools to help clarify your personal values and take steps towards living a life where those values can guide you in your day-to-day behaviour.

Ben Sedley is a clinical psychologist and ACT (Acceptance and Commitment therapy) therapist with experience of working with children, adolescents and families facing mental health difficulties in both primary health centres and community mental health teams. Ben's training and practice has focused on examining children and young people's understandings of mental health, which has helped guide him on the best ways to explain mental health concepts and ACT to young people.

7. House of Windows by Alexia Casale, published by Faber & Faber [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780571321537      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9780571321544)

“The body is a house of many windows: there we all sit, showing ourselves and crying on the passers-by to come and love us.” (Robert Louis Stevenson). Nick hates it when people call him a genius. Sure, he's going to Cambridge University aged 15, but he says that's just because he works hard. And, secretly, he only works hard to get some kind of attention from his workaholic father. Not that his strategy is working. When he arrives at Cambridge, he finds the work hard and socialising even harder. Until, that is, he starts to cox for the college rowing crew and all hell breaks loose. A wry, heartfelt and beautiful second novel from award-winning author of The Bone Dragon about how the people we love the most can be the most difficult people to love.

A British-American citizen of Italian heritage, Alexia is an editor, teacher and writing consultant. After studying at Cambridge, she moved to New York to work on a Tony-award-winning Broadway show before completing a PhD and teaching qualification.

8. Quiet the Mind by Matthew Johnstone, published by Robinson [Graphic Novel]

ISBN: 9781780331188      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781780339023)

In a world where finding even ten minutes to 'do nothing', the benefits of meditation can be profound. Meditation is simply a way of giving our brains a well-deserved break and can actually help our brains to function healthy and happily. This beautifully illustrated guide is an inspiring and practical book which shows you how to meditate without the need for uncomfortable lotus positions or prayer beads! With his typical gentle and insightful humour, Matthew's guide to meditation will enable you to feel more present, more youthful, have more energy and greater concentration, improve your mood and sleep more soundly.

Matthew Johnstone is the author of bestselling books Alphabet of the Human Heart, I Had a Black Dog and Living with a Black Dog, also published by Robinson. He is also an artist, writer and exhibited photographer.

9. The Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky, published by Simon & Schuster [Fiction]

ISBN: 9781471116148      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781471118180)

Shy, introspective, intelligent beyond his years, caught between trying to live his life and trying to run from it, Charlie is attempting to navigate through the uncharted territory of high school. The world of first dates and mixed tapes, family dramas and new friends. The world of sex, drugs, and music - when all one requires to feel infinite is that perfect song on that perfect drive. Standing on the fringes of life Charlie has a unique perspective of the world around him, but there comes a time to stop being a wallflower and see what it looks like from the dance floor. This haunting novel about the dilemma of passivity vs. passion has become a modern classic. Charlie's letters are singular and unique, hilarious and devastating and through Charlie, Stephen Chbosky has created a deeply affecting story that will spirit you back to those wild and poignant roller coaster days known as growing up.

Stephen Chbosky's first film The Four Corners of Nowhere, premiered at Sundance Film Festival and went on to win Best Narrative Feature honours at the Chicago Underground Film Festival. Most recently, he wrote the screenplay for the critically acclaimed film adaptation of Rent. The Perks of Being a Wallflower is his first novel. As well as being an author, Stephen Chbosky is a film director and screenwriter.

Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD)

10. The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time by Mark Haddon, published by Vintage [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780099598459      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781409086048); CD audio (ISBN 9781856867887)

Christopher is fifteen. He knows a very great deal about maths and very little about human beings. He loves lists, patterns and the truth. He hates the colours yellow and brown and being touched. He has never gone further than the end of the road on his own, but when he finds a neighbour's dog murdered, he sets out on a terrifying journey which will turn his whole world upside down. With over ten million copies sold and turned into a West End stage play, The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time is a murder mystery novel like no other. The detective, and narrator, is Christopher Boone.

Mark Haddon is an author, illustrator and screenwriter who has written fifteen books for children and won two BAFTAs. His bestselling novel, The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time, was published in 2003. It won seventeen literary prizes, including the Whitbread Award. His poetry collection, The Talking Horse and the Sad Girl and the Village Under the Sea, was published in 2005, followed by his novel, The Red House, in 2012.

11. The Reason I Jump by Naoki Higashida, translated by David Mitchell and YA Yoshida, published by Sceptre [Memoir]

ISBN: 9781444776775      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781444776768); Audio file (ISBN 9781444779882)

The No. 1 Sunday Times and New York Times bestseller. Written by Naoki Higashida when he was only thirteen, this remarkable book provides a rare insight into the often baffling behaviour of autistic children. Using a question and answer format, Naoki explains things like why he talks loudly or repeats the same questions, what causes him to have panic attacks, and why he likes to jump. He also shows the way he thinks and feels about his world - other people, nature, time and beauty, and himself. Abundantly proving that people with autism do possess imagination, humour and empathy, he also makes clear how badly they need our compassion, patience and understanding. David Mitchell and his wife have translated Naoki's book so that it might help others dealing with autism and generally illuminate a little-understood condition.

Naoki Higashida was diagnosed with autism in 1998 and subsequently attended a school for students with special needs, then (by correspondence) Atmark Cosmopolitan High School, graduating in 2011. Having learnt to use a method of communication based on an alphabet grid, Naoki wrote The Reason I Jump when he was thirteen and it was published in Japan in 2007. He has published several books since, from autobiographical accounts about living with autism to fairy tales, poems and illustrated books, and writes a regular blog. Despite his communication challenges, he also gives presentations about life on the autistic spectrum throughout Japan and works to raise awareness about autism. David Mitchell is the author of the novels Ghostwritten, number9dream, Cloud Atlas and Black Swan Green. He has been shortlisted twice for the Man Booker Prize and won several awards for his writing.

Body Image and Eating Disorders

12. Can I Tell You About Eating Disorders? By Bryan Lask and Lucy Watson, published by Jessica Kingsley [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781849054218      Format: Paperback

Meet Alice - a teenage girl with anorexia nervosa. Alice invites readers to learn about anorexia nervosa and how it makes her see herself differently from how other people see her. She also introduces readers to Beth who has bulimia nervosa, Sam who has selective eating problems, Francesca who has functional dysphagia and Freddie who has food avoidance emotional disorder. They all explain why they find food difficult and how their eating disorders are different. This illustrated book is an ideal introduction to understanding the complex issues surrounding eating disorders. It shows family, friends and teachers how they can support a young person with an eating disorder and will also be a good place to start when encouraging open conversations about eating disorders at school or at home. The Can I tell you about? series offers simple introductions to a range of limiting conditions and other issues that affect our lives. Friendly characters invite readers to learn about their experiences, the challenges they face, and how they would like to be helped and supported. These books serve as excellent starting points for family and classroom discussions.

14. Tyranny by Lesley Fairfield, published by Walker Books [Graphic Novel]

ISBN: 9781406331134      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781406335378)

In this stark portrayal of a young woman's struggle with anorexia, Lesley Fairfield draws on her own experiences of an eating disorder to give a powerful and candid story of hope and survival. 'Do I know you?' 'You've always known me, silly...I'm Tyranny, your other self. I keep you thin.' One day, horrified by her reflection in the mirror, Anna makes a life-changing decision - that food is the enemy. Her obsession with being thin and beautiful will now dominate her every waking and sleeping hour. Should she falter or show any signs of weakness, Tyranny, her inner voice of 'reason' will be only too willing to push her back into line. Years later, when Anna finally finds the strength to defeat her personal demon, it will be a matter of life and death.

Lesley Fairfield is a graduate of the Ontario College of Art and Design and has illustrated many children's books. Lesley's thirty-year battle with anorexia and bulimia has informed her work and given Tyranny, her first graphic novel, a sharp edge and deep insight.

18. Face by Benjamin Zephaniah, published by Bloomsbury [Fiction]

ISBN: 9780747541547      Format: Paperback

In this startling debut novel from Benjamin Zephaniah, the author tackles the moving and compelling story of a young man, Martin, whose life is completely changed when his face is badly scarred in a joyriding accident. Brilliantly written with a real ear for dialogue, this is Benjamin Zephaniah breaking new boundaries.

Benjamin Zephaniah is probably one of the most high-profile international authors writing today, with an enormous breadth of appeal, equally popular with both adults and children. Most well-known for his performance poetry with a political edge for adults and groundbreaking performance poetry for children, Benjamin also has his own rap and reggae band, and has appeared on Desert Island Discs. He is in constant demand internationally to perform his work: he is (he thinks) Nelson Mandela's favourite poet, and is the only Rastafarian poet to be short-listed for the Chairs of Poetry for both Oxford and Cambridge University.

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9781780339030)

There are many different breeds of Black Dog affecting millions of people from all walks of life. The Black Dog is an equal opportunity mongrel. It was Winston Churchill who popularized the phrase Black Dog to describe the bouts of depression he experienced for much of his life. Matthew Johnstone, a sufferer himself, has written and illustrated this moving and uplifting insight into what it is like to have a Black Dog as a companion and how he learned to tame it and bring it to heel. Mental Health Journal described it as 'A beautiful book, worth owning for the author's illustrations alone, in 48 pages Matthew condenses insight, advice and inspiration'.

Matthew Johnstone is a passionate mental health and wellbeing advocate. He is a bestselling author, illustrator, photographer, public speaker and is also the creative director at the Black Dog Institute.

Self-Harm

22. The Truth about Self-Harm by Celia Richardson, published by Mental Health Foundation

ISBN: 9781903645994      Format: Paperback

This booklet aims to help you understand more about self-harm and what to do if you are worried about yourself or someone else. It explains what self-harm is, what to do if you or someone you know is self-harming, and how to get help. Self-harm is very common and affects more people than you think.

All of the information in the booklet is based on the findings of the National Inquiry into Self-harm among young people. The inquiry was carried out by two charities, The Mental Health Foundation and The Camelot Foundation. The inquiry panel heard evidence from many hundreds of people including young people who self-harm, or have self-harmed in the past, and those who work with or care about them. This booklet is based on what they said. The booklet was developed by Celia Richardson, Kristen Morgan and Claire Walsh.

OCD

23. Breaking Free from OCD by Jo Derisley, Isobel Heyman, Sarah Robinson and Cynthia Turner, published by Jessica Kingsley

ISBN: 9781843105749      Format: Paperback

Other formats: Ebook (ISBN 9786611782283)

Obsessive-compulsive disorder (OCD) is a potentially life-long debilitating disorder, which often emerges during teenage years and affects as many as 1 in every 50 people. Young people living with OCD experience recurrent obsessions or compulsions that are distressing and interfere with their social lives, relationships, educational functioning and careers. Written by leading experts on OCD, this step-by-step guide is written for adolescents with OCD and their families, to be used in home treatment or as a self-help book. Using the principles of cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) it offers teenagers a structured plan of treatment which can be read alone, or with a parent, counsellor or mental health worker. The guide provides useful advice and worksheets throughout. This self-help book for young people is an invaluable resource for adolescents who have suffered from, or know someone who has suffered from, OCD, their families, teachers, carers, and mental health professionals.

Jo Derisley, is Consultant Clinical Psychologist at the Norfolk & Waveney Mental Health Care Trust, UK. Isobel Heyman is Honorary Senior Lecturer at the King's College Institute of Psychiatry, London, and a Consultant Child and Adolescent Psychiatrist. Dr Heyman and Dr Derisley represented childhood OCD in the NICE Guideline Development Group, and contributed to the written national UK guidelines for the management of OCD. Sarah Robinson is Assistant Psychologist at the national and specialist OCD and related disorders clinic for children and young people at the Maudsley Hospital. Cynthia Turner is Honorary Lecturer at the King's College Institute of Psychiatry, London and Senior Clinical Psychologist at the national and specialist OCD clinic for children and young people. She specialises in the treatment of OCD and anxiety disorders in young people, and has written treatment programs for these disorders.

While eliminating stress completely isn't realistic, young people can learn to control how they respond to it. Fighting Invisible Tigers offers proven techniques that teens can use to deal with stressful situations in any environment - in school, at home, even among friends. It also includes fully up-to-date information on how stress affects health and decision making, as well as the latest stress management skills. Filled with interesting facts, real life stories, and fun activities, this is a great resource for teens everywhere.

Earl Hipp is an author, speaker, adviser to mentoring groups, and community consultant.

26. The Teenage Guide to Stress by Nicola Morgan, published by Walker Books [Non-fiction]

ISBN: 9781406353143    Format: Paperback

The Teenage Guide to Stress - written for teenagers but essential for adults who want to understand - tackles all the external stresses that teenagers face, including feelings of anger, sadness (and depression), fear and failure; issues caused by changing bodies, body hatred, weight problems, eating disorders and self-harm; pressures of exams and schoolwork; sleep problems; changing relationships with friends and family; boyfriend/girlfriend issues and sexual pressures; bullying and cyber-bullying; problems arising from the internet; and looks at how pre-existing conditions such as OCD and dyslexia may be affected by adolescence. As well as a sympathetic, practical and positive look at all those stresses, The Teenage Guide to Stress clearly explains the biology behind stress and, crucially, a huge range of strategies and suggestions to deal with it and prevent negative symptoms. A list of useful resources completes this fantastically wide-ranging, reassuring, eye-opening and comprehensive guide for young people, empowering them to take control of their mental health.

Nicola Morgan has written nearly a hundred books. Her fiction titles Sleepwalking was winner of the 2005 Scottish Arts Council Children's Book of the Year Award.
